

JORDAN LEBLANC

gitlab: JordMolinar, (303) 815-2116, jord.molinar@gmail.com

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

As a software engineer I have been able to combine my interests in betterment and creativity. I enjoy finding and overcoming challenges in building out ideas to become tangible and sharable experiences. From early interests in expressive ideation and design, I have found continuity in software development that has driven to my interests to optimize the experiences of those around me.

SKILLS

- Back/ Front end coding
- Customer service
- CSS3
- Java
- HTML
- Detail oriented
- Communications

EXPERIENCE

Supply Tech

May 2018 - Current

Veteran affairs | Aurora, CO

- Worked with VA hospital staff to assist in keeping medical supply closets fully stocked.
- Learned how to operate the VA Hospital logistics database, as well as train new hires .
- Stocked the Hospital with fresh oxygen tanks learned how to properly discard of the empty tanks.
- Used polished and refined communication skills to assist patients with needs.

Valet Supervisor

September 2017 - April 2018

Premier Parking | Denver, CO

- Run the day to day operations without the need of the manager.
- Managed scheduling
- Provided excellent customer services through daily interaction with guests and hotel department personnel.
- Prepares and overseas the paperwork related to any employee related auto accidents.
- Responsible for training new employees.
- Heavily relied upon by manager during his absence.

EDUCATION

Software Coding Bootcamp

March 2020

University of Denver, Denver, CO

Associate of arts

November 2013

Culinary Institute of America, Hyde Park, New York, NY

High school diploma

May 2009

Standley Lake High School, Westminster, CO

REFERENCES

REFERENCES Upon request